Paternity Suits Him

"The really important thing about doing Fresh Prince of Bel-Air," says John Amos, who is graduating from guest spots to a recurring role on the NBC sitcom, "is that to my kids and grandkids, I'm relevant again. They've all heard about Roots, but my 3-year-old granddaughter always just thought of me as 'Pop-Pop' until she saw me on the series." On-screen, Amos gets to play proud papa as well, as the father of Will Smith's girlfriend, Lisa (Nia Long). "The character is not unlike myself," he allows. And Amos even has paternal feelings toward his costar: "Will said some words to me about what my work has meant to him that made me feel real good. I just wanted to hug him because he acknowledged what I tried to do in the early days of my career." Not that all those old times on Good Times were necessarily good. "I was used to working killer hours on a series," Amos recalls. "On Fresh Prince they have such incredible work hours that I felt guilty getting paid. But don't worry. ...I didn't give back the money."

TIM RUE/LGI

Amos: "Pop-Pop" is popping up again.*

E.J. CAMP/OUTLINE

Dunaway: Mommy's dearest wish is normalcy.*

From Extreme to Mainstream

From bank-robbing Bonnie Parker to mean "Mommie Dearest" Joan Crawford, "I've played so many extreme people that I never get offered anything but that," sighs Faye Dunaway. "I have a 14-year-old son; I live quietly. I've been longing to play a woman who is closer to my life—it's a real effort I've been making to be more accessible." The Oscar-winning actress finally gets her chance in NBC's "A Family Divided" (Jan. 22) as a housewife and mother in a picture-perfect family, except for one little problem: Her son raped a girl at a frat party. When her husband (Stephen Collins) tries to cover it up, Dunaway decides her boy must take the rap, even if it means a prison term. "It's really about being accountable for your actions," she explains. "People are really getting fed up with those who don't accept responsibility, who blame others for their actions."

The Way of All Flesh

Is there much exposed flesh on Mitzi Kapture's USA series, Silk Stalkings? "Are you kidding? We push the envelope," she says. "Obviously, people do want to watch that." And currently they're watching her character, Sgt. Rita Lee Lance, in a hot affair with a fellow cop (Eric Pierpoint): "We make love on the beach, in my partner's kitchen, and in an outdoor glass elevator." But the actress has to draw the line somewhere: "In the very first episode, they wanted me in a bikini, but I said no—I felt if I did it once, they'd expect it all the time."

JAD/ZUMA/SIPA

Kapture: Love in an elevator.

JEFFERY NEWBURY

Double Duty

Few actors play regular roles on two hit series simultaneously, but Lisa Kudrow is pulling it off. Not only is she Phoebe, one of the friends on NBC's Friends, she's also Ursula, the ditzy waitress on Mad About You. And here's a scoop: It turns out Phoebe and Ursula are twin sisters, and next month the twain shall meet on—what else?—a two-part Friends. "I haven't seen the script yet," confesses Kudrow, "but I immediately asked the question every actor wants to know: Do I get paid double for playing two characters?" It's a far cry from when she got fired from the role of Frasier's radio producer, Roz (now played by Peri Gilpin), only a day after being cast. The moral of the story? "You should never take rejection in this business personally."

Kudrow: A twinning combination.

What I Watch

Scott Baio
"Diagnosis Murder"

What do you watch? The Honeymooners, whenever I can pick it up. I'm a big fan of A&E and The Discovery Channel. I'll also set aside time to watch a major sporting event.

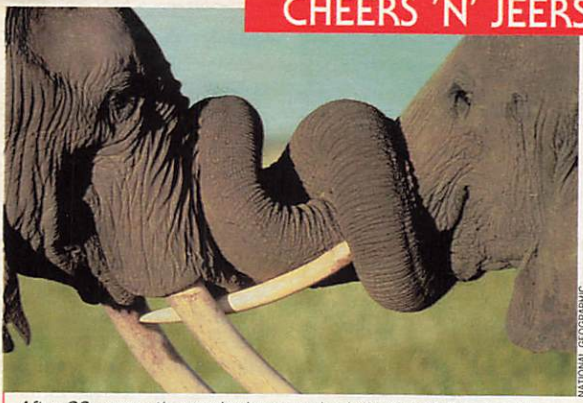
Why are mystery shows like Diagnosis Murder and Murder, She Wrote so successful? There's a finality to them—a sense of completion because you've introduced the villains, pursued them, and jailed them all in one hour. How often does that happen in real life?

How important is sex appeal to an actor on TV? I don't think people watch Murder, She Wrote because of the sex appeal of its leads, but that's probably the real reason they watch Melrose Place. Sex appeal can bring heat to a show, but it puts you in that "hunk" or "starlet" category that makes people dismiss you as a serious talent.

Who's made the biggest impact on one of your shows? Robin Williams on Happy Days. He was a hurricane of talent that could not be denied.

BILL NATION/SYGMA

CHEERS 'N' JEERS



NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC

After 30 years, the pachyderm-packed "National Geographic Specials" continue to bring viewers nose to nose with nature.

CHEERS

To charming chimps, engaging elephants, and grinning gorillas—and to the National Geographic Specials, for bringing those and countless other critters into our lives for three decades. To mark the occasion, the series comes to commercial TV, after 19 award-filled years on PBS, when NBC presents "30 Years of National Geographic Specials" (Wednesday, Jan. 25, 8 P.M./ET). With such groundbreaking (and seafaring) scientists as Louis and Mary Leakey, Jacques Cousteau, and Jane Goodall—plus a supporting cast of thousands, both animal and human—the specials have changed the way we see the world...and ourselves.

JEERS

To CBS's Connie Chung, for cornering Newt Gingrich's mother into revealing that her son thinks Hillary Rodham Clinton is something that rhymes with "itch." It was a spicy little scoop all right, and ordinarily, we figure TV journalists dealing with wily pols should be at least as wily themselves. But with someone's dear old mom? Still, not to get too huffy, we think Marvin Kalb, TV correspondent-turned-Harvard academician, has a point: "Mrs. Gingrich could have been much wiser, and Connie Chung should have been much better."

JEERS

To the worst halftime show of the season, at the otherwise outstanding Orange Bowl. The battle between Nebraska and Miami on NBC kept fans glued to the game well into the night. But all those tigers and human cannonballs careening about during the half helped turn a pigskin classic into The Lamest Show on Earth. Just because the bowl games now cost the networks millions, does that mean old-fashioned school spirit must be buried in a glut of glitz? In contrast, baton twirlers and marching bands held center stage at the Rose Bowl the following day. Corny and retro? Perhaps...but that's what we expect from college ball.

CHEERS

To wisdom from the mouth of babes. Mia Tyler, 16-year-old daughter of Aerosmith's Steven Tyler, told A Current Affair, apropos of Pop's raunchy on-stage antics: "He stands there and he's groping himself, and he is 46 years old and should not be doing that." Rave on, Mia!

JEERS

To the continuing medical-show melee between NBC and CBS. First there was the fall face-off between two good series, ER and Chicago Hope. The Eye Network was first to blink; they pinned their Hope to another time slot. Then CBS's 48 Hours, the latest lamb slated for slaughter against ER, decided to tackle the ratings Goliath head-on with a documentary titled "The Real ER." Meanwhile, NBC had jabbed back by rerunning ER's debut on the same night Hope moved to Mondays. Doesn't all this remind you of a pair of kids in a sandbox going, "Nyah-nyah"? ■

THE COUCH CRITIC

By Jeff Jarvis

Dream On

Fox, Sundays, 9:30 P.M./ET

Getting HBO's Dream On onto Fox required radical surgery—they had to cut the sex out.

Dream On is a show built on two gimmicks: breasts and nostalgia. It was created five years ago, back when cable still thought the freedom to bare breasts was what set it apart from the rest of TV. Since then, HBO has learned that talent is a better distinction; anybody can get naked, but few can make a great show (like Larry Sanders). But meanwhile, Dream On developed a reputation of its own as the R-rated sitcom, the one to watch for skin without staples, flesh without shame. By turning sex into a punch line, it made ogling almost acceptable. It became TV's version of safe sex.

Brian Benben in the lonely guy's show of life.

ANDREW SEMEL/HBO

But all that has to change for broadcast TV. The producers say they always planned for this, making two versions—with and without the naughty bits—of each show. So now we'll see what's left over.

The first thing that will strike you is Dream On's other gimmick: the campy black-and-white clips that also serve as punch lines. When the star is feeling embattled, we cut to a shot of Lee Marvin boxing for his life; when he's feeling lovesick, we see an actress mooning over Ronald Reagan. It's cute. But especially in the early shows, the ones now on Fox, Dream On gets so carried away making room for clips, it upstages its own cast.

That good cast is led by Brian Benben as a poor schlub who holds his head remarkably high considering the sexual humiliation he endures (even in the PG Fox version, we see him spray whipped cream on an almost naked woman and lick it until he gets nauseated—which is at least as embarrassing as baring one's butt on NYPD Blue). Wendie Malick is wonderful as Benben's pretty and decent but distant ex-wife. And Denny Dillon is hilarious as his hedgehog of an assistant. It took them about two seasons, but this cast—and these writers—rose above their gimmicks and some infantile, "sex-starved" plots (the worst: when a kiddie-show star is caught with his pants down) to build a series that surprises with episodes about life, death, and politics.

So the truth is, the show's sexectomy won't hurt it. Though I may sound like an overage teenager insisting I read Playboy for the articles, I will say that when I watch Dream On on HBO, it's not for the sex—that's hardly a rare commodity on cable—it's for the occasional gem of an episode. So don't come to Dream On for flesh (it's gone) or nostalgia (Nick at Nite is better). Come for a show that is different and eventually gets good. ■

WINT

Like white sales and the Super Bowl, it happens every January: Some of fall's shows fall out, and a blizzard of new programming blows in to take their place. But this year the competition is so heated it could thaw winter's chill. Two new players—nascent networks from Warner Bros. and Paramount—are jockeying for position with the Big Four, and so are syndication and cable. That explains why you'll suddenly see some familiar faces in brand-new places: folks like Delta Burke, Corbin Bernsen, Cybill Shepherd, Robert Conrad, Patty Duke, and Don Adams. You'll also note that the new schedule almost looks like a male-order catalog; men are back. Most of all, you're going to be seeing plenty of promising programs—more than have ever debuted in midseason before. Fact is, with a full slate of comedy, action, and drama to choose from, winter isn't midseason anymore; as one of the new shows' titles puts it, it's a whole new ballgame.

ABC

A Whole New Ballgame

(Mondays, 8:30 P.M.*)

Top talent: Corbin Bernsen, Julia Campbell.

Concept: Jock in a hard place—a baseball player on strike lands a job as a sportscaster and runs afoul of his new female boss.

Their take: "There are a few strokes in it that are like Coach," says Bernsen, "and I think there're bits out of Cheers when we get into the bar, and bits out of Mary Tyler Moore when we get into the newsroom."

Our take: Derivative? Maybe, but Bernsen and Campbell make a winning team, and together they just might hit this one out of the park.

*All times Eastern.

ER PREVIEW

Our annual glimpse at prime time's New Year newcomers

Corbin Bernsen and Julia Campbell take a swing at comedy in "A Whole New Ballgame."

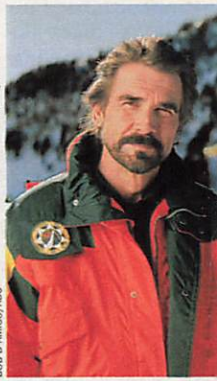
GEORGE LANGE/ABC

EXTREME (DEBUTS JAN. 29)
Top talent: James Brolin, plus a buff and beautiful ensemble cast.
Concept: Melrose on a mountain—the lives and loves of a resort-town rescue team that bails out daredevils in distress.
Their take: "This is going to appeal to different audiences," says executive producer Alan Barnette. "The action is going to appeal to the football crowd, and the sexiness is going to appeal to the women."
Our take: He could be right. And the scenery is stunning, whether your taste runs to snow-capped cliffs or Lycra-swathed curves.



BOB D'AMICO/ABC

James Brolin goes to "Extreme."

THE MARSHAL
(DEBUTS JAN. 31, 10 P.M.)
Top talent: Jeff Fahey, executive producer Don Johnson.
Concept: Maverick marshal always gets his man.
Their take: "If you're thinking it's an action show with a lot of cheap chases, easy resolutions, and black-and-white villains, it's not what you're thinking," says executive producer Daniel Pyne.
Our take: Fahey has Don Johnson hair, a Don Johnson voice, and a Don Johnson attitude. For fans who have been waiting for Johnson to return to TV, this is the next best thing. →

RON TOM/CBS

Don't shoot the (bike) messenger: Robert Pastorelli is a big-hearted boss to the cyclists of "Double Rush."

CBS

(WEDNESDAYS, 9 P.M.)

Top talent: Robert Pastorelli, the makers of Murphy Brown.

Concept: Taxi on two wheels—Murphy Brown's Eldin plays Johnny Verona, boss of a New York City bike-messenger service.

Their take: "Bike messengers are a close-knit group," says exec producer Stephen Nathan. "The show is a way of building a new kind of family on TV."

Our take: Too bad this family

DELIVERING THE MALE

Remember the supposedly good old days of television? The time when Men were Men, with names like Kojak, Columbo, and Banacek? That somehow more innocent age when the primary consideration wasn't an actor's looks, or his ability, but whether or not his name reminded you of the sound of cardboard being shredded? Slowly, insidiously, those men of action were replaced by lesser men, men with names like Balki, Doogie, and Mr. Belvedere.

JEFFERY NEWBURY

In 1995 the tide turns. Men are back. Lots of them. Doing manly things. In manly situations. When they're not tracking outlaws (The Marshal), they're fixing cars (Under the Hood). When they're not hurtling down ski slopes in Utah (Extreme), they're riding kamikaze bike missions in Manhattan (Double Rush).

At the end of each show, the man will save the day—and hopefully the network's ratings.

Why now? Why us? Why are men suddenly hot again? (In a television sense, that is.) Two reasons come to mind:

1. America needs heroes. You can't count on baseball, hockey, or basketball players to finish a season anymore. At the very worst, male TV stars only go on strike for more money one at a time, and it's usually during the off-season.

2. "Revenge of the Newts"—perhaps yearning for that simpler era of heroic cops and cowboys, voters in the last election sent a message not only to Washington, but to Hollywood: "Let's go for the guts and glory again."

Will the manly men succeed in saving either the ratings or the 104th Congress? The key will be to see if they're still in office—and on air—in two years. If not, we'll still have reruns of Dragnet. Joe Friday always gets his man.

—Bruce Feirstein

Manly? Yes: Jeff Fahey as "The Marshal."

has to compete with Roseanne's family. Pastorelli, as ever, is a peach, and the rest of his troupe clicks with an easy comic rapport—if the writers inject a little more bite into their scripts, we'll be popping wheelies over this one.

Women of the House
(Wednesdays, 8 P.M.)
Top talent: Delta Burke and producers Harry Thomason and Linda Bloodworth-Thomason, together again after their Designing Women fallout.
Concept: Suzanne Sugarbaker goes to Washington.
Their take: "This is classic Suzanne," says Burke, "and in the right dosage, to where you are not tired of her."
Our take: But we could tire of political stereotypes, which run rampant in this House. Still, Burke's Sugarbaker is a hoot, and costars Teri Garr and Patricia Heaton rise above the clichés.

Cybill
(Mondays, 9:30 P.M.)
Top talent: Cybill Shepherd, and the creative talents behind Roseanne.
Concept: Shepherd's midlife crisis, adapted for TV—an actress has a tough time getting work in youth-conscious Hollywood.
Their take: "This is bright and bawdy," says executive producer Marcy Carsey. "It's more upscale than what we usually do."
Our take: The aging-actress quandary makes good sitcom fodder, and

THE OFFICE (SPRING DEBUT)

Top talent: Valerie Harper.
Concept: Harper is the pasha of a secretarial pool.
Their take: "We're examining the American office," says executive producer Paul Junger Witt.
Our take: A sitcom about secretaries seems somehow anachronistic. Harper deserves a promotion.

UNDER ONE ROOF (SPRING DEBUT)

Top talent: James Earl Jones.
Concept: Family values—three generations share their dreams and dysfunction, all...under one roof.
Their take: "It's a black family drama," says executive producer Thomas Carter. "But this family has the same problems, issues, and conflicts that any working-class family in America has."
Our take: It does for black family dramas what Cosby did for black family sitcoms.

UNDER THE HOOD (SPRING DEBUT)

Top talent: George Wendt.
Concept: A TV version of National Public Radio's Car Talk.
Their take: "It will be a classic show," says executive producer Peter Tolan, "but there will be a sense of goofiness."
Our take: Cheers' Wendt as a radio personality? It worked for Frasier... (No preview tape available.)

THE WRIGHT VERDICTS (SPRING DEBUT)

Top talent: Tom Conti, executive producer Dick Wolf (Law & Order).
Concept: British barrister makes big bucks in the criminal courts of New York City.
Their take: "It's not as serious as Law & Order," says Wolf, "but not as light as Matlock."
Our take: Wolf has imported the talented Conti for his latest court date, but unless it leans more toward credibility, the Verdicts may get overturned.

CABLE

Cable's new offerings range from the comic to the cosmic. On the lighter side, USA Network gives the daredevil his due with Super Dave's Vegas Spectacular, a comedy in which stumbling stuntman Super Dave Osborne tries to run a Vegas hotel and casino in between death-defying disasters. Meanwhile, Nickelodeon introduces one of the youngest comedy ensembles ever to etch a sketch on All That, a half hour of humor starring seven kids. On CNBC, the more or less grown-up Charles Grodin takes over Tom Snyder's time slot with a talk show. Why Grodin? "The country is filled with people with qualifications," he explains. "I have none, and we're very excited about that." From the funny to the fantastic, USA declares TekWar. Based on William Shatner's novels, the series stars Greg Evigan as an ex-cop fighting futuristic foes. And if you see something strange on Showtime, don't worry. There is nothing wrong with your television set—it's just The Outer Limits, a new version of the '60s sci-fi anthology. Finally, there is a House of Blues in New Orleans. There's one in L.A., too, and both will spotlight top musicians on TBS's Live from the House of Blues.

JEFF KRAVITZ/TBS/WB

Sheryl Crow croons in "The House of Blues."

NBC

AMAZING GRACE (SPRING DEBUT)

Top talent: Patty Duke.
Concept: A pill-popping nurse turns over a new leaf and becomes a minister.

Their take: "This is not a show about religion," says executive producer Jonathan Estrin. "It's about hope."
Our take: We're hopeful. (No tape available.)

Search and Rescue
(Spring Debut)
Top talent: Robert Conrad.
Concept: "Cliffhanger" for the small screen—again. This time the adventures are based on a High Sierras rescue team.
Their take: "I like that we're depicting a rescue team that's real," says Conrad.
Our take: Look for Extreme competition. (No tape available.)

Hope & Gloria
(Spring Debut)
Top talent: Cynthia Stevenson, Jessica Lundy.
Concept: Two neighbors with nothing in common form an uneasy friendship.
Their take: "If Hope and Gloria develop the kind of relationship that Mary and Rhoda had, we'll be very happy," says executive producer Cheri Steinkellner.
Our take: So would we. (No tape available.)

Newsradio (Spring Debut)
Top talent: Dave Foley (The Kids in the Hall), Phil Hartman (Saturday Night Live).
Concept: A group of thirtysomethings spends entirely too much time working together at a New York City radio station.
Their take: "Seinfeld is about leisure time, and this is about no leisure time. It's all work, all the time," says executive producer Paul Simms.
Our take: This makes three radio sitcoms. They say the third time's the charm… (No tape available.)

Get Smart
(Sundays, 7:30 P.M.)
Top talent: Don Adams, Barbara Feldon.

Concept: Agents 86 and 99 have a grown son, and he's a chip off the old blockhead.
Their take: "Our goal is to still have the same slapstick and wacky characters of the original show," says producer Michael J. DiGaetano.
Our take: Would you believe we couldn't get a preview tape three days before the pilot aired? Sounds like KAOS has the upper hand.

Top talent: John Leguizamo.
Concept: In Living Color, Latino-style.
Their take: "It's an opportunity to be wild without restrictions," says Leguizamo. "To me, this show is Kids in the Hall meets Carol Burnett."
Our take: Rude, raunchy, and, frequently, very funny.

SLIDERS (SPRING DEBUT)
Top talent: Jerry O'Connell.

SYNDICATION

Syndication teems with testosterone this winter, but there's also a soupçon of soap suds and a dose of reality in the mix.

Taking the point position is Pointman, starring Jack Scalia as a former Wall Street whiz who exchanged pinstripes for prison stripes when he was framed for fraud. Now exonerated, he runs a beachfront bar and battles bad guys.

Spun off from a series of Action Pack movies, Vanishing Son features Russell Wong as a fugitive martial artist in pursuit of the crime lord who framed him. Also breaking out of the Action Pack is Hercules: The Legendary Journeys, starring Kevin Sorbo in the myth-adventures of the daring demigod.

Turning from machismo to melodrama, Aaron Spelling offers University Hospital, the personal and professional travails of four student nurses and their instructor (Tonya Pinkins). And if you prefer real-life drama, there's Juvenile Justice, a sort of young People's Court over which Judge Eric Andell presides and decides cases involving youthful defendants.

WHAT GOES AROUND COMES AROUND

Previously seen shows that have been dusted off, retooled, or merely moved from one network to another:

BURKE'S LAW (CBS) Gene Barry will be back after last season's 13-episode run.
CHRISTY (CBS) The Kellie Martin series will return this spring with a new costar: Star Trek: The Next Generation's LeVar Burton.
MOMMIES (NBC) They're back from hiatus and they've gained a daddy: Dear John's Jere Burns.
THE CRITIC (FOX) Abandoned by ABC, then picked up by Fox, the cartoon curmudgeon (right) will get a new life—and a new girlfriend.
DREAM ON (FOX) Reruns of the award-winning HBO series, minus all the really naughty bits.

COLUMBIA PICTURES TELEVISION

Concept: "Lost in (a Parallel) Space"—a young scientist discovers a way to "slide" into parallel universes, but has a hard time getting back to the Earth he calls home.
Their Take: "It's a wonderful way to do 'what if' stories," says executive producer Robert Weiss. "This premise gives us an opportunity to do that on television."
Our Take: It's a neat little twist on a standard sci-fi setup, and the writers have big fun with the possibilities (i.e., what if Elvis were still alive?).

AND INTRODUCING... TWO NEW 'NETWORKS'

This season, it's not just shows you have to keep track of—it's networks, too

BY MARK SCHWED

Actor Matt Borlenghi is no Jerry Seinfeld. So he was surprised when gifts from network bigwigs started pouring in. "They even slid a 'Good luck' note under my door," he says on the set of Pig Sty. "I love being on a new network."

He's not the only one. Hundreds in Hollywood are now happily employed thanks to Warner Bros.' and Paramount's decision to start two more "networks." (Technically, they don't have enough programming to qualify for network standing by FCC rules.)

First on the airwaves was The WB, which launched Jan. 11 with four new sitcoms. Five days later, UPN (United Paramount Network) was born with Star Trek: Voyager's two-hour premiere.

The idea is to eventually expand both to seven nights, but for now, The WB will air on Wednesdays, while UPN takes Mondays and Tuesdays. Confused? Consider this: Depending on where you live, the networks will air on either a VHF station, a UHF station, a local cable outlet, a cable superstation like WGN, or not at all.

No wonder execs at the major networks aren't running scared. "I don't think they're going to have much of an impact," says NBC West Coast president Don Ohlmeyer. "They'll face the same problems Fox faced when it launched."

Fox got off to a slow start because it offered broad-based programs. But then the fledgling network zeroed in on America's youth and hit the jackpot. The new guys on the dial hope to do the same, using a slew of ex-Fox execs and stars.

One of those stars is Richard Grieco, of 21 Jump Street and Booker fame, who's back in UPN's Marker. "You have a little more leeway with a new network," says Grieco. "They don't stand over you and say, Do it this way, do it that way."

He is humming a familiar tune. Virtually all the stars and producers contacted by TV GUIDE rejoiced in the fact that the new networks weren't interfering with their "vision." One result of the hands-off policy: racier shows, like The WB's Muscle, set in a New York City health club and promising to push the taste envelope. Over at UPN, raciness rules as well. "This whole network is geared to guys," says Richard Jeni, star of Platypus Man. "So my show is real sexy. I'm like Lucille Ball in heat. You won't see that on Full House."

UPN's bottom-line plan is to use the Voyager muscle to draw young male viewers. "Men will not follow women to watch certain shows, but women will follow men," says UPN entertainment president Michael Sullivan.

The WB head Jamie Kellner, who also helped launch Fox, plans to lure a more balanced male–female crowd. And he's preaching patience. "We'll wait until the audience finds these shows. Then we'll do a slow roll, night by night."

Shawn Wayans—star of The WB's The Wayans Bros. and onetime costar (with his siblings) of In Living Color—has a familiar feeling about his new network. "To me, it's déjà vu," he says. "Except this is the second coming." ■

UPN

STAR TREK: VOYAGER The crew of the U.S.S. Voyager, lost on the Final Frontier, must team up with a ship of renegades known as the Maquis to get back home.

PLATYPUS MAN Richard Jeni hosts a cable TV cooking show, but what he really wants to heat up is his love life.

PIG STY Five bachelors share a two-bedroom apartment in New York. Naturally, their "super" is a beautiful woman.

THE WATCHER Rap artist Sir Mix-A-Lot stars as The Watcher, a guy in a casino who uses hidden cameras to spy on the world's glitziest playground—Las Vegas.

MARKER After the death of his millionaire father, Richard Grieco discovers that his dad has given out markers—promises to help people whenever they need it. Now Grieco must pay up. Costars Gates McFadden.

The big New Mexico sky is endless blue, the wind crisp and cold. The December sun dazzles everything on the rugged 20,000-acre spread in Santa Fe where CBS is shooting much of its upcoming four-hour miniseries "Buffalo Girls." During a break, Melanie Griffith, known for being headstrong and impetuous, decides to saddle up and head for the hills. She expertly mounts her horse and is off, despite her 19th-century Wild West getup of pantaloons, petticoats, rib-crushing corset, and full-length, bustle-backed dress.

"And it was fantastic," she says later. "The corset kept me completely erect. I went galloping off, and it just made me very solid in the saddle."

In every respect, this past year has been a time in which Griffith, 37, seems to have regained her balance. The worst year of her life, she calls it. And the best. Her turbulent marriage to her first love and two-time husband, Don Johnson (the two were married briefly when Griffith was 18), is, for now, back on track. Johnson, 45, has been a frequent visitor to the "Buffalo Girls" location, and even though Griffith says she doesn't want to talk about him, her infectious happiness bubbles over. "He was here yesterday," she says, smiling. "Did you see him?"

No, but the cast and crew have seen him often. "Buffalo Girls" director Rod Hardy particularly welcomes Johnson's presence. "I know when Don is coming and when Don is going, because Melanie's moods rise up and they fall down again,"

GREG GORMAN/GAMMA LIAISON

Hardy says. "They are obviously a great couple together and are finding a new happiness. I don't think they are going around talking about it much because why should they? Like in everybody else's relationships, there are ups and there are downs. I suppose they worry that if they start saying it's up again—and suddenly it's down for a moment—people might say: You see! It didn't work!"

Melanie Griffith Gives It Another Go

She's at work on a new miniseries—and on her fabled, troubled marriage to Don Johnson—hoping the 'storm has passed'

BY DEBORAH STARR SEIBEL

"It is more out of caution," says Griffith of their quiet reconciliation. "Our marriage has been so public, and that's been harmful to us. We've been through hell this year. But everything is fine now. We don't want to talk about it in the press anymore, because it just isn't anybody's business." But are they as happy as the cast and crew seem to think? "Yes," she says instantly. "I'm happy. He's happy. We're happy. It's been a rough year, but I think the storm has passed."

In an on-again, off-again breakup that was as public as it was painful, Griffith filed for divorce in March, changed her mind, then refiled in June. The pair had been married this time around for almost five years, and from the outside their lives were idyllic: busy careers, a luxurious mountain home near Aspen, Colo., and three children to enjoy it all. (Griffith and Johnson each have a son from a previous relationship, as well as a daughter together.) But sometime in 1993, the fairy tale fractured when Johnson, a decade-long recovering alcoholic, "truly believed he was capable of drinking an occasional glass of wine with dinner," said his friend and publicist, Elliot Mintz.

Johnson's fall off the wagon, with TV cameras capturing what seemed to be drunken appearances at public events, was widely reported. Less well-known is the fact that Griffith, who had also been clean and sober since 1988, started drinking again, too. It scared her, she says, and five months later she quit cold turkey. But Johnson was still in trouble, prompting Griffith to leave the marriage. "Just because you love someone," she said at the time, "doesn't mean you can live with them."

She spent the summer with friends in the Hamptons in New York. "And it was like a ——ing hurricane," she says, in the little-girl voice that softens the edges of her sometimes rough language. "My temper was really raging. I was all over the page." She went into therapy. She listened to "women's songs that are about pain," she says, citing favorite performers Bonnie Raitt and Shawn Colvin. She rebelliously cut her hair, several times, shorter and shorter. "I had such a hard summer this year that I kind of felt like I was going through my midlife crisis early. I don't know when you're supposed to go through it. I think it's around 50, isn't it? But I went through a great depression. I've never been that down or that..." She struggles to find the right word: "...lost."

She found solace in books, many of the spiritual and self-help variety. She finally realized, she says, "that I had to take full responsibility for what was going on with my life. I always thought I had. I always said I had. But I never did, not really."

At about the same time, Johnson checked himself into the Betty Ford Center in Rancho Mirage, Cal. After completing the month-long program, he turned down all requests for interviews. "He is working on his recovery," said Mintz then, "slowly and quietly."

Griffith, who for the most part kept her distance, did visit Johnson at the clinic. But she says she learned over the summer to stop expecting love to be a cure-all. "I think that's a big thing with women," she says. "You look for that romantic love that is supposedly going to cure everything, and it's never gonna happen. It does not exist. Maybe temporarily, but not permanently." She sounds newly grown-up as she says this, the cynicism mixed with sorrow. "I was incredibly sad," she says softly. "But the one thing that kept me going was my kids. How can you give up when you see the hope in their eyes?"

And there were other hopeful signs. Johnson wanted to put his family back together, so Griffith attended family week at Betty Ford. "And what I learned is just more of what I learned this summer: You have to take full responsibility for your life, and you can't blame anyone else for your problems."

She sits at a small table in her expansive "Buffalo Girls" trailer, cozy now in a long, comfortable cotton nightshirt. Two young cocker spaniels vie for her attention in between bouts of messing the indoor carpet. "What am I going to do with you?" she implores, snuggling with them and sounding not the least bit annoyed. Despite endless hours on the set and the brutally dry Santa Fe air, she looks dewy fresh. "I just put tons of cream on my face," she says, surprised to hear that the stress of the production—and of the past year—doesn't show.

TONY ESPARZA/CBS

Best in the West: Griffith as a strong-willed madam chats up cowpoke Gabriel Byrne in "Buffalo Girls."

She is, in fact, a spokesmodel for Revlon's Age Defying Collection. Did it give her pause when she was approached to be an example for older women? "At first, it really did," she says. "I thought, Why are they asking me? Why would I want to do that? And then I realized that, at the time, I was 35. So even though I feel like I'm 18, I do notice more lines on my face."

Are there compensations

for being 37? "Definitely," she says, and demonstrates by sharing the only photograph lying on her table, a treasure that's too new to even have a frame. "That's Alexander," she says, pointing to her 9-year-old son, "and that's Dakota," pointing to her 5-year-old daughter. Then she smiles at the man in the middle. "And you know him." "Him" is Johnson, smiling, with his arms around the two children. Many times during the conversation, Griffith refers to him proudly as "my husband," but she closes the door to further discussion.

There is a fierce determination about Griffith that instantly brings to mind her Oscar-nominated performance in "Working Girl": all frills on the outside, all steel on the inside. "She knows exactly what she wants," says her "Buffalo Girls" costar Anjelica Huston. The two have known each other for 20-odd years and have become fast friends in this, their first project together.

The miniseries, set to air in May, is based on the Larry McMurtry bestseller and—in the tradition of McMurtry's novel and miniseries sensation, Lonesome Dove—captures the bittersweet spirit of the waning days of the Old West. Huston plays the legendary Calamity Jane, and Griffith plays her lifelong friend, Dora DuFran, a softhearted, strong-willed madam. Huston thinks Griffith is perfectly cast.

"I think maybe because of Melanie's voice, people don't understand that she is extremely intelligent," says Huston. "Extremely perceptive. Extremely canny. Because she has this little-girl quality—which I find completely charming—people underestimate her strength. But I think Melanie is very strong and nobody's fool."

"Nobody's Fool" just happens to be the name of her latest movie, starring Paul Newman. The film has opened to critical acclaim, including Oscar talk for Newman and good notices for Griffith. After a string of mediocre movies, including "The Bonfire of the Vanities," "Born Yesterday," and "Milk Money," "Nobody's Fool" may jump-start Griffith's movie career.

On television, Griffith's appearances have been rare. She costarred in a 1990 HBO movie, "Women & Men: Stories of Seduction," and made a memorable cameo appearance in 1987 as a high-rent madam (and serious love interest for Johnson's Sonny Crockett) on Miami Vice. Playing the frontier madam in "Buffalo Girls" gave her pause because "doing television again was a little scary," allows Griffith. "You hear that television is cheaper than film. But it's not. This has been a first-class production. Also [executive producer] Suzanne de Passe is a partner with my husband [in another TV project], so the whole thing just felt very right."

The assistant director knocks on Griffith's trailer door. Time to return to the Wild West, a place requiring toughness of its women, a place where Griffith seems to thrive. So, if someone waved a magic wand and she could swap her life for Dora DuFran's, would she? "No," she says firmly, shaking her head. "Not unless Don was there. And my kids. But I think I could have been a Buffalo Girl, because I'm a survivor." ■

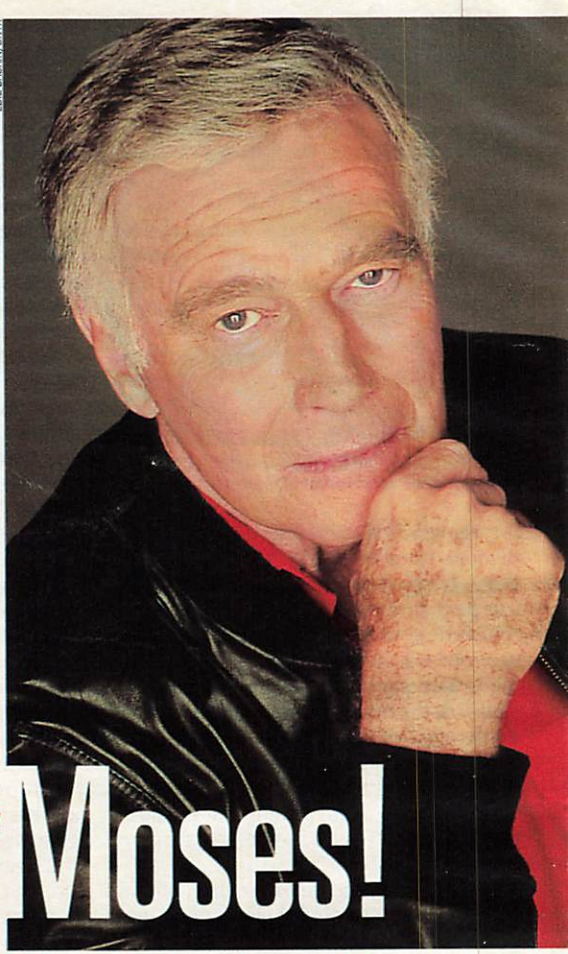
Holy Moses!

Now Charlton Heston's

Charlton Heston admits he's covered all the sacred bases. He's played Moses, John the Baptist, and El Cid, among others. "So I felt a certain responsibility to play Brigham Young for the Mormons," he says, chuckling at his joke, his voice resonant, his bearing as imposing as ever.

He tackles the role in TNT's "The Avenging Angel," which weaves the facts of Young's leading his Mormon disciples to the home they would carve out of the Utah wilderness with a fictional theme about their protecting the church and its hierarchy. It's another solemn, bigger-than-life part, and seated in his home of nearly 40 years—a rambling, western-style place atop a ridge in Beverly Hills—Heston seems born to it.

"Physically, I'm not going to play the roles Dustin Hoffman plays," he says. "An audience will now accept, in the first scene, that I am a President or a general. They'd be less likely to do that with Hoffman—who's a marvelous actor. Similarly, for me to play 'Tootsie' would be ridiculous."



EDIE BASKIN/ONYX

What Heston found especially intriguing about Young was that he viewed himself as a figure comparable to Moses. "He was a very strong leader, and he looked on the promised land they were seeking as Zion," says Heston. "He spoke all the time of the Exodus. And because he envisioned himself as a Moses-like leader, the part was familiar to me. I said to myself, 'I know this guy. I've seen him before.'"

Heston's research for the role was far more contemporary and visceral than for many of his other parts. "I went to Salt Lake City," he says. "His house is there, his hat is there. Towels are lying around. The plate he ate off is there. This is the first experience I've had playing someone of whom there's such a complete personal record." Heston's friend Sen. Orrin Hatch (R-Utah) also provided him with a biography of the Mormon chief.

◆ TNT will air "The Avenging Angel" on Sunday, Jan. 22, at 8 P.M./ET.

The actor's bookcase is crammed with dozens of bios of actors and directors, as well as bound copies of his movie scripts. Kids' toys—remnants of a recent visit from his 3-year-old grandson—sit in a corner.

When Heston and his wife, Lydia, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in March at a black-tie dinner in Beverly Hills, the guest list straddled the actor's two distinct worlds: movies and politics. Luminaries such as Gregory Peck, Robert Stack, and Martin Landau broke bread with Sen. Phil Gramm (R-Texas) and former Education Secretary William Bennett.

In some ways, Heston's reputation as a conservative spokesman has equaled, if not dwarfed, his film accomplishments. Hollywood is a politically liberal town, where candidates and causes raise millions of dollars every year. So Heston's conservative opinions and support of such groups as the National Rifle Association draw considerable attention. With a smile, Heston labels his political involvement "public-sector activism."

Interestingly, he hasn't always been a Republican poster boy. In the early '60s, he picketed segregated restaurants in Oklahoma and elsewhere ("before it became fashionable") and ignored warnings by studio executives that such activism would harm his career. In '63, he was a leader of the arts contingent in the March on Washington, alongside such actors as Sidney Poitier and Marlon Brando.

"When the Democratic Party shifted to the left under my feet in the '60s, I was perceived as becoming a conservative," says Heston. "But I was conservative all along." Hollywood's liberal bent mystifies Heston, but he suspects it has something to do with an unspoken guilt many feel because of their extraordinary wealth: "You think, 'How come I own this house? How come I make so much money. Do I really deserve this?'" He says his outspoken politics never got in the way of finding jobs, but he's not so sure about other conservatives in the entertainment business.

"Young directors and actors sometimes say: 'It's easy for you to speak out because of who you are, but I would lose work if I did the same thing,'" Heston explains. "I would hate to believe that's true."

For now, says Heston, his stock seems high with all those Hollywood liberals. "I'm certainly not treated as a pariah... especially after November's elections." ■

Michele Lee

The 'Knots Landing' girl-next-door takes a walk on the wild side as country superstar Dottie West

BY HILARY DE VRIES

It might be a scene plucked straight from Knots Landing. On a perfect Southern California afternoon, Michele Lee has just finished showing off her house and is ending the tour with a cozy lunchtime chat by the grand piano in her spacious living room.

"I'm so family-oriented I can't even tell you," she says, pointing to the thicket of silver-framed family photos atop the piano and sounding exactly like Karen MacKenzie, the supersupportive wife and mother she played on Knots for 14 years. "I've lived in the same house for 24 years; I've had the same best friend since I was 16; I still talk to my former husband; my brother and I are extremely close; his wife is one of my best friends; and everyone is close to my son and my second husband. I guess I'm just that kind of person—I like to keep things around me."

That she does. To Knots, Lee brought a warmth and levelheadedness that mirrored her own life, despite its share of challenges. Those include divorce from her first husband, actor James Farentino; single-motherhood as she raised her son David, now 24; marriage seven years ago to her second husband, Fred Rappoport; and professional ups and downs in a career that began on Broadway in the '60s and continues today in her roles as actor/producer/director and head of her own company. Through it all, Lee has conveyed a winning good sense and good humor. "The sheer likability of Michele Lee is infectious," Time magazine once proclaimed.

It is in person, too. Dressed casually in jeans and a white cotton shirt, Lee appears far younger than her 52 years. She retains her dancer's figure, as well as a hearty laugh and a down-to-earth manner. But some of that next-door–neighbor image may get an overhaul with her first major TV role since Knots, playing country-music star Dottie West in the CBS movie "Big Dreams Broken Hearts."

Although West was the first woman to win a Grammy for country music—her biggest hits were "Here Comes My Baby" and "Country Sunshine"—she was almost more famous for her uninhibited lifestyle and her wild wardrobe: low-cut sequined gowns, high-heeled boots, and tight spandex. So the movie gives Lee a chance to not only sing (performing 10 of West's songs), but swing a little, too.

"Frankly, I think the network was sold on the whole idea when I took out a picture of Dottie," says Lee, who's an executive producer as well as the star. "She had red hair out to here, and the heels, and the nails, and this body in spandex. And I said, 'That will be me—Michele Lee.' "

With four TV-movies under her belt, Lee is an experienced producer—but "Big Dreams" presented her with big challenges. Not only did she spend months

◆ "Big Dreams Broken Hearts: The Dottie West Story" airs Sunday, Jan. 22, at 9 P.M./ET on CBS.

Goes West

working with a vocal coach to emulate West's singing style, she also had to round up the rights to the star's turbulent story—an abusive childhood in the backwoods of Tennessee, followed by failed marriages, alcoholism, bankruptcy, and her tragic death in a car accident in 1991—from West's family members and her three ex-husbands.

"When Michele first called me about making the movie, we talked for two hours," says Shelly West, the singer's daughter. "Michele has so much of Mom's enthusiasm and tenderness, I got that little-girl feeling with her like I used to get with Mom."

Lee also wanted access to West's songs, costumes, and several of her famous friends. Willie Nelson, Dolly Parton, Kris Kristofferson, and Loretta Lynn all make cameo appearances, and Kenny Rogers, West's real-life singing partner, does several duets with Lee.

"I was initially very skeptical," says Rogers. He did not commit to the film until he realized "this wasn't just a movie project for Michele, but a real passion to bring Dottie's story to life." Rogers adds that the similarities between the two women proved so striking "that when Michele and I sang the duets, it was like singing with Dottie."

Lee loved wearing West's actual costumes, which had been in storage since her death. "I became such a flirt. Honey, I had breasts, I had legs!" She also had a bad case of the giggles when it took "three women and a man" to help wrestle her into some of the tighter outfits.

But while she enjoyed West's flamboyant side, Lee feels the singer's story also holds a more poignant resonance for women. "She was really a feminist in her own way, this glamorous woman from the South," she says. "Because Dottie talked openly about her face-lifts and tush-lifts and her marriages to younger men, she broke a lot of barriers of what was considered acceptable for women."

It is an example Lee seems to take to heart herself. "There are so many actresses today who, when they hit 38, it's like, 'Whoa' "—what Lee refers to disdainfully as "that whole ageism thing." In fact, asked to comment on being an "older" woman working in Hollywood, she puts her lips together and blows a raspberry. "There," she says, "and you can print it if you can spell it."

Not that she has much to worry about on that score. In addition to acting and directing offers, Lee has a CBS deal for several more TV-movies, as well as a comedy series at some future date.

And she seems to have similar success in her personal life. After breaking up with Farentino in 1981, Lee is happily settled in her marriage to Rappoport, a TV producer. "Jim was very emotional, but Fred is an intellectual. You can't get him to fight with you," she says.

Much of her equanimity can be traced to the years she spent in therapy: "I've been shrinking so long, I should be 5-foot-2," she jokes. But on a more serious note, she confides that her biggest challenge has been learning to let family and friends go their own way.

The only daughter of makeup artist Jack Dusick and her homemaker mother, Sylvia, Lee grew up in Los Angeles as the apple of her parents' eyes. It was largely at their urging that she auditioned for Broadway producer David Merrick just out of high school, which led to her first big break: starring with Robert Morse in the hit musical "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying." "They urged me to go, but I had this umbilical thing with my parents for a long time. It is still something I have to watch, the part of me that wants to keep people [too] close."

And that means checking her maternal instincts regarding David, who lives nearby: "I raised him as a single parent from the time he was 10, and I had to consciously learn to let go."

So it is perhaps not surprising that on the way out the door, Lee points to a portrait of her son she had painted on the Mexican-tile staircase. "We had that done when he was 3 years old. He's still my baby," she says, sounding exactly like Karen MacKenzie. ■

How do you talk to an Angel?

Boy, the things that happen when nobody's looking. Did you know that Weird Science—the USA Network series (Saturdays, 10 P.M./ET) based on the 1988 movie—is the highest-rated cable show (with the exception of sports) in its time slot and has just been renewed for a third season? Given the show's premise—two less than socially proficient teenage boys (John Mallory Asher and Michael Manasseri) create a computer-generated babe (Vanessa Angel) of astonishing attractiveness, wisdom, and power—one can only assume that a lot of high-schoolers are getting grounded on weekends. Or maybe not. There's something about the show that most likely appeals to the kid in many American males, regardless of age.

Angel: A teen dream from cyberspace.

EVERETT COLLECTION

And that would be where Angel comes in. The British-born actress brings a bit more than the required va-va-va-voom quality to her role, imbuing the character of Lisa (played by Kelly LeBrock on the big screen) with humor and heart. At lunch recently, Angel seemed gratified that upcoming episodes are "more adventurous" and that the characters of Gary (Asher) and Wyatt (Manasseri) are evolving. "During the first season, they were almost too nerdy," Angel says. "Today's 15-year-olds are quite hip, and we're bringing the characters more into that realm."

While Lisa's incredible powers transcend those of your ordinary PC-generated playmate, Angel agreed that her character could have some fun in cyberspace—surfing the Internet, say, complete with board and bikini. But more important than the opportunity to interact with cool effects is the chance to develop Lisa's character. "She'll be experiencing more human emotions," Angel says. Perhaps even falling in love—but not with her creators (the old "Pygmalion" syndrome). "They'll still have to find their own girlfriends," she says with a knowing chuckle. ■

Femmes fatales

The Sci-Fi Channel has a campy take on certain women's stereotypes. For I Am Woman Week—a festival of female-themed sci-fi films hosted by actress/comic/singer Sandra Bernhard (hear her roar)—each of the movies showcased involves an unlucky lady mutating into some horrible creature and wreaking havoc. First up, on Monday, Jan. 23 (all start at 9 P.M./ET), is 1944's "Jungle Woman," starring the ineffable Acquanetta, who can't seem to shake her ape side; on Tuesday, it's the incredibly bizarre "The She Creature" (1957), in which past-life therapy brings back a sea demon no one was interested in meeting; Wednesday ushers in 1957's self-explanatory "Voodoo Woman"; Thursday brings 1960's "The Leech Woman," which sucks (ar ar ar); and Friday caps things with Roger Corman's "The Wasp Woman" (1960), starring Susan Cabot as a cosmetics queen who uses royal jelly to keep from aging. A campily cool collection, to be sure.

Marriage '95: A whole new World

Lisa Miller Hughes Eldridge Shea Colman McColl Mitchell—the unsinkable diva played by Eileen Fulton on As the World Turns—will say "I do" for the seventh time next week. But on the eve of her wedding to Eduardo Grimaldi (Nicolas Coster), she is going to discover, much to her horror, that her son Tom (Scott Holmes) has gone behind her back and presented the groom-to-be with a prenuptial agreement. Says Fulton: "I've done this show since 1960, and Lisa's never even heard the word 'prenuptial'! Half the plots—and most of her money—wouldn't have been possible." (Ironically, Lisa struck it rich thanks to Hubby No. 2—John Eldridge—who was also played by Coster some 29 years ago.) In real life, the 61-year-old Fulton, who's been married three times, is quite savvy about this stuff: "I had a prenuptial agreement drawn up for my last husband—but the marriage was over before his signature had a chance to dry."

Lisa and Eduardo: Wedded bliss?

VICTORIA ARLAK

GH: Making an offer we can't refuse

General Hospital's look at mafioso life has been as believable—and as chilling—as anything we've seen since, well, "The Godfather." The plot is not dissimilar: Like Michael Corleone, GH rock impresario Sonny Corinthos has attempted, unsuccessfully, to free himself from his underworld roots. His main squeeze, Brenda (like Corleone's wife, Kay), does not know the depth of his involvement (this week, info will come to light about Sonny's early years that will severely screw up the romance). We can't drool enough over the acting: As Brenda, Vanessa Marcil has emerged as the most complex young heroine in soaps. As Sonny, Maurice Benard (Desi in the TV-movie "Lucy & Desi: Before the Laughter") is delivering a labyrinthine performance of Pacino proportions. And how, pray tell, does head writer Claire Labine—a sweet little grandmother from Brooklyn—happen to know so much about the mobster mentality?

CRAIG SJODIN/ABC

Brenda and Sonny: Rocky.

Vixen on video

As part of All My Children's 25th-anniversary hoo-ha, ABC has released "All About Erica"—a 45-minute home-video homage to daytime's best-loved vixen. Alas, results are mixed. It's not Susan Lucci's fault: Looking like a billion bucks, she hosts the show with wonderful, unforced charm. And, individually, her clips are a hoot. What's disappointing—and surprising—is the ABC marketing machine's phone-it-in approach. There is no noticeable attempt at pace, structure, dramatic build, historical perspective, or substantive commentary. Lucci has created a fuss unparalleled in Soapland, and she deserves a tape that doesn't leave us wondering why. ■

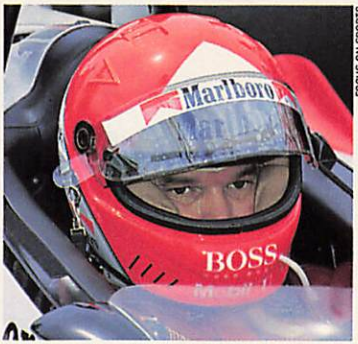
Moran goes globe-spanning again for '95

Julie Moran, the second-year host of ABC's Wide World of Sports, just turned 33. The show—once the premier showcase of ABC Sports and hosted by venerable Jim McKay—is starting its 35th season. Obviously, in an age of multiple cable sports networks, Wide World can't be what it once was. But with Moran's charm and coordinating producer Curt Gowdy Jr.'s savvy, it still delivers thrilling victories, agonizing defeats, and plenty of viewers, earning the top network sports ratings through the winter months until the NBA Playoffs begin.



FOCUS ON SPORTS

The eyes have it: "Wide World" will name Al Unser Jr. its 1994 Athlete of the Year.

As the season premiere (Saturday, Jan. 21, 4:30 P.M./ET) demonstrates, Wide World remains an island of diversity in a sea of carefully targeted sports programming. First up: figure skating's World Challenge of Champions from Tokyo (taped Jan. 9-10), followed by the presentation of Wide World's 1994 Athlete of the Year honor to Al Unser Jr., winner of May's Indianapolis 500. If either event is half as eventful as Moran's debut last year, the show will be a must-see.

"My very first event as host was the U.S. National Figure Skating Championships in Detroit, where the Nancy Kerrigan–Tonya Harding controversy started [with the attack on Kerrigan]," says Moran. "The whole scene couldn't have been any more bizarre with all the updates—Nancy in tears and unable to skate, lots of confusion, Tonya winning [she was later stripped of the title], and an interview with the police chief." Moran says ABC will look back on the controversy when it telecasts this year's Nationals from Providence, R.I., in February.

"Julie did an outstanding job during figure skating and in hosting generally," says Gowdy, who admits that ABC intended for Moran to give the old show a rejuvenating jolt. "She's bright, young, and articulate with a keen sense of style and personality. She's the storyteller," says Gowdy, who cites Moran's Detroit debut as an example of grace under pressure.

As for Moran, she remains respectful of the show's "rich history," but notes that "you need new types of sports." That's why the Wide World will widen a bit more to include World Sprint Speedskating competition on Feb. 25 and the World Mountain Biking Championships on April 8. Other highlights in the season's blend of new and old include World Cup snowboarding from Colorado (March 4), and the World Freestyle Skiing Championships from France (March 18).

Also, in its up-close-and-personal tradition, Wide World returns to Romania with 1976 and '80 Olympic gymnastics sensation Nadia Comaneci—five years after her dramatic escape. Donna de Varona goes back with her for the April 1 report and visits the gym where Comaneci trained to win five Olympic gold medals.

While Gowdy admits that "a major reason we've lasted so long is that no one else programs some of these events," there's more to it than that.

Not the least of which is the strength of its 34-year lead-in: ABC's Professional Bowlers Tour with Chris Schenkel. ■

Nothing redefines your legs like NordicTrack.

"The World's Best Aerobic Exerciser®" is the fast way to get a beautifully sculpted body and great legs.

While most exercisers, like bikes, treadmills and stairsteppers, focus only on your legs, a NordicTrack® exerciser tones your whole body. By working every major muscle group, you'll burn more calories than with ordinary exercisers (up to 1,100 calories per hour). And, in fact, in a recent 12-week study, users slimmed their hips and thighs by an average of over 2 inches.*

The weight loss workout that works!

You want to look terrific, but who's got time to go to the health club every day! And diets alone don't work because they slow down your metabolism. But research shows a workout like NordicTrack can boost your metabolism so you burn more calories all day long. All it takes is as little as 30 minutes, 4 times a week. In fact, research shows that 7 in 10 people who bought a NordicTrack to lose weight lost an average of 17 pounds. And 80% of those people kept the weight off over a year. With NordicTrack, you can too!

Jack Nicholson and Michelle Pfeiffer star as publishing executive and rich man's daughter in an entertaining "Wolf."*

NEW RELEASES

Jack Nicholson's a howl in 'Wolf'

And not a ha-ha howl. Nicholson is simply terrific in this modern-day werewolf movie; he's still the king, still hypnotically watchable on-screen. He plays Will Randall, a top editor at a New York publishing firm who's about to lose his job in a corporate takeover. After being bitten by a wolf on a lonely stretch of snowy road in Vermont, he finds himself possessed of sharply heightened hearing, smell, and strength—all of which help him discover the truth about his snaky protégé (James Spader) and his cheating wife (Kate Nelligan). Outstanding special effects (check those wolf leaps!) and Mike Nichols' polished direction help make this a fast-paced, highly enjoyable romantic thriller, with Nicholson perfect in the role. Michelle Pfeiffer stars as Laura Alden, his new pal and love interest—and the daughter of the tycoon (Christopher Plummer) who's just demoted Will. Or tried. (R 2:05 Columbia TriStar CC)

Silence of the Hams There are some well-known names in this sophomoric parody of "Psycho," "Basic Instinct," and a few other films, including, of course, "The Silence of the Lambs." It's pretty lame, but viewers who are into silly lampoons might enjoy it. Dom DeLuise stars as Dr. Animal Cannibal Pizza. With Joanna Pacula, Martin Balsam, Billy Zane, Charlene Tilton, John Astin. (R 1:25 Cabin Fever CC)

The Shadow Think "Batman," "Dick Tracy," and a bit of "Raiders of the Lost Ark" and you'll have an image of what's going on visually in "The Shadow," a darkly elegant movie that's long on style and production values but short on plot and clever writing. Alec Baldwin stars handsomely as The Shadow, that mind-clouding hero of '30s and '40s radio who knows "what evil lurks in the hearts of men." The reason he knows is that he once had a dark side of his own, as an opium lord in the Himalayas (those are the Indiana Jones-type scenes). Now he's reformed, an avenging angel. Even with its scripting flaws, it's good fun to watch. With Penelope Ann Miller. (PG-13 1:52 MCA/Universal CC) ■

Beleaguered Chung Has No Regrets Over 'Gingrichgate'

After more than a week of second-guessing by politicians, the public, and colleagues in the press (including TV GUIDE), CBS news anchor Connie Chung offers no apologies for her "just between you and me" exchange with Newt Gingrich's mother.

CRAIG BLANKENHORN/OUTLINE

Chung and CBS see eye to eye.

"Anyone who saw the whole story would agree she was engaging in an informal conversation that took on a playful tone," Chung says. "What I said worked in the context of the interview. I have no regrets."

The Eye to Eye interview sent the Speaker of the House's spin machine into overdrive the following day, when Gingrich demanded a public apology, asserting Chung had used her media savvy to sandbag his mother into admitting that he had called Hillary Rodham Clinton a "bitch."

In fact, Chung reveals she saw Gingrich and family after the taping, and although he expressed concern over the exchange, "he didn't demand an apology and dropped the matter. He's an experienced pol who deflected the media attention onto me."

CBS's defense of its beleaguered anchor seems muddled after subsequent waves of attacks. CBS News exec Andrew Heyward says he "would be lying if I didn't say I'm worried [about Chung's potential image problem]."

But Chung feels CBS's support has been strong, and says she received encouragement from Walter Cronkite, 60 Minutes exec producer Don Hewitt, and network CEO Laurence Tisch.

CBS News president Eric Ober says the controversy has caused the network to consider "achieving a balance with Connie of both [her anchor and newsmag positions]." CBS Broadcast Group president Howard Stringer has even suggested she "throttle back" on her assignments.

While the other networks boast several newsmags that touch on tabloidy stories, Chung's Eye to Eye carries the brunt of the load for CBS, and she is unhappy with the burden. "Don't pressure me to go after every newsmaker, high or low road," she says. "Let me go after the stories I want."

TV of Tomorrow Stirs Technofest

Displays at this month's Consumer Electronics Show in Las Vegas suggest that TVs will soon act more like computers, and vice versa. For example: One new AT&T device hooks up to your set and offers an on-screen readout of all incoming phone calls, plus other services such as remote banking and personalized news, sports, and weather reports. The $329 "TV Information Center" goes on sale this year. Also noteworthy: Microsoft introduced "Bob"—designed as the friendliest home PC program ever and a harbinger of what it may be like to surf in future 500-channel systems. A cartoon character directs you through steps to balance your checkbook, make lists, and handle other household chores. —Greg Fagan

• SYNDICATION •

Syndicators Selling Young Talk, Buffed Bods, and Sci-Fi

Station programmers hit Las Vegas this week, looking for syndicated shows to fill their schedules, at the annual National Association of Television Program Executives convention. Here's a first peek at what's coming:

• Talk, Talk: Despite this year's slew of chat flops, "everybody's producing a Ricki Lake wannabe," says Bill Carroll of the Katz Television Group. "There's someone who looks like Ricki—Carnie Wilson; someone the same age—Tempestt Bledsoe; an Hispanic Ricki—Charles Perez; and a Ricki with brains—Gabrielle Carteris." For older folks, there's The George & Alana Show, with Hamilton and his former Mrs.

WARNER BROS.

Carnie Wilson: The talk of NATPE.

• Reality Still Has Bite: America's Most Wanted spawns a daily show focusing on the crooks who were nabbed, and three new programs will follow the Coast Guard, Customs, and the LAPD.

• Kid Stuff: Disney's Gargoyles gets a daily gig.

• Action: More buffed bods in Baywatch Nights. Land's End finds Fred Dryer in a Hunter-on-the-hacienda. Flipper hopes to make a new splash in syndication.

• Sci-Fi: The Outer Limits is remade; Tales from the Crypt is repeated. The Wanderer features The Thorn Birds' Bryan Brown as time-traveling twins.

• Trying Times: Juvenile Justice convenes in a family courtroom.

• Back to Basics: The off-network premieres of Home Improvement and Seinfeld will probably be the biggest hits of the syndicated season. —I.R.

TV CLIPS

Roseanne has acquired the rights to produce an American version of the hit Britcom Absolutely Fabulous...Ellen DeGeneres begins shooting her first feature, "Mr. Wrong," in April...NBC has scheduled box-office blockbuster "Jurassic Park" for May 7, before it goes to cable TV, and is asking $650,000 for a 30-second spot...A CBS prime-time documentary on violence, "In the Killing Fields of America," will be reported by the 60 Minutes team of Mike Wallace, Ed Bradley, and Dan Rather, and is scheduled to air Jan. 26...John Lithgow is taping the sitcom pilot Life as We Know It for ABC. —Penelope Patsuris

L.A. Press Tour Notes

Four days into their preview of new programming for the press, the nets had announced these plans: CBS—Neil Simon is dusting off the "Sunshine Boys" script for Peter Falk and Woody Allen...James Garner, Sissy Spacek, and Sam Shepard will star in Streets of Laredo...Francis Ford Coppola is producing Robert Louis Stevenson's Kidnapped...A Scott Bakula series is in development ...NBC—Ted Danson will drop in on Frasier in February ...Phil Hartman stars in The Station this fall. —P.P.

HITS & MISSES REVIEWS BY PAUL DROESCH

'Dottie West'...lions, tigers, bears...a Mormon mystery

The Dottie West Story (Sun., CBS)—"Home cookin' in the fast lane" sums up this vehicle for Michele Lee (see p. 28) to sing West's hits in outfits that even Elvis might have found tacky. West's life, complicated by booze and the IRS, was hardly country sunshine, and it's re-created here with typical TV-movie ham-handedness, but Lee does make West likable. My score (0 to 10): 5

A Family Divided (Sun., NBC)—A rich college boy is involved in a frat-house gang rape, and his lawyer dad (Stephen Collins) treats it as a legal problem. Mom (Faye Dunaway) is appalled—as you can easily tell by Dunaway's nonstop quivers and stage whispers. This TV-movie is heavy enough as it is; Dunaway makes it sink like a lead weight. My score: 3

The Avenging Angel (Sun., TNT)—Somebody's trying to kill Brigham Young (Charlton Heston—see p. 26), and a Mormon Church "operative" (a fictitious character played by Tom Berenger) is trying to find out who. This mystery/western is slow and not overly mysterious. And, as a meditation on Mormonism, it's only cursory. But Berenger has some depth, and Heston, who hasn't forgotten that "Ten Commandments" bombast, is a hoot. My score: 6

ERIK HEINILA/TNT

Tom Berenger, Tom Bower in "The Avenging Angel."

Escape from Terror (Mon., NBC)—This look-before-you-leap cautionary tale, fleshed from a 1990 episode of Unsolved Mysteries, stars Maria Pitillo as an Oklahoma woman dazzled by a guy (Adam Storke) who turns out to be possessive in the way USA B-thriller bad guys are. But this TV-movie is bad in a way those flicks rarely are: It's dull. My score: 3

American Cinema (Mon., PBS)—We may not need another documentary series about the movies, and this 10-hour, clips-and-talking-heads celebration is kind of gee-whizzy. But it is instructive (this week, among other things, it makes the "invisible style" used in making "Casablanca" quite visible), and it's entertaining. My score: 7

30 Years of National Geographic Specials (Wed., NBC)—The narration borders on self-parody at times ("the mating behavior of these black beetles is quite unusual"), but there are some moving sequences (notably, when an archaeologist unearths the bones of a Vesuvius victim) and enough amazing images of lions, tigers, bears, etc., to satisfy any Nature buff. My score: 7

Pig Sty (Mon., United Paramount Network)—Five "immature little boys" (played by five no-names) share a Manhattan apartment in an unprepossessing little guys-chasing-gals sitcom. It isn't fresh, or wickedly clever (nor is it wildly raunchy). But it can grow on you: Of the three episodes made available for preview, the third is the sharpest. My score: 6

Note: Schedules vary in some areas.

High-school trauma and drama on the Schoolbreak Special

BY RAY STACKHOUSE

A parents' guide to noteworthy programming for youngsters. Programs especially suitable for preschoolers are marked•

The first CBS Schoolbreak Special for 1995 is a perceptive coming-of-age chronicle of the senior-year frustrations, joys, successes and failures experienced by three high-school girlfriends. "What About Your Friends" follows Temple (Monica Calhoun), Alex (Malinda Williams) and Breena (Lark Voorhies), who have been inseparable since grade school and share a dream of attending college together. When finances (the girls are from different economic backgrounds) threaten to bankrupt their plan for the future, the relationship begins to crumble and the dream looks to be evaporating. The three leads effectively carry this well-written drama and give studied, affecting performances.

Nickelodeon's sketch-comedy romp All That, which was sneak previewed in April, joins the weekly schedule on Saturday. A talented young cast (ages 12-18) pokes fun at the things 12 to 18-year-olds poke fun at—school, fellow students, fast-food jobs, TV personalities, etc.—in a rapid-fire format that keeps firing even after the occasional misfire. All the kids do stellar work and interact seamlessly, but extra-bubbly Kenan Thompson seems to be the show's go-to guy. He's a promising find. Each episode features a music guest, and on the series opener, Da Brat is in the house and getting "Funkdafied."

CBS

Schoolbreak Special: "What About Your Friends"

On Sunday, PBS's Ghostwriter opens the book on a new four-part story arc. In "Attack of the Slime Monster," Casey enters a contest in which she has to compose a horror story. The team pitches in to help and before you know it they've crafted a tale that, as one of them says, "gives my goosebumps goosebumps." There's one problem though. They find themselves in a sticky situation when the villain in their fictional chiller, a gruesome chewing-gum spewing doll named Gooey Gus, comes alive. Kudos to special-effects whiz Tom Savini ("Maniac," "Creepshow"), who created the creepy slime monster, and bravo to a super script, which shows young aspiring writers how to inject suspense, atmosphere and humor into their work.

"Jacqui's Dilemma," a poignant dramatization about a pregnant 16-year-old (played with moving vulnerability by Melissa Thompson), was originally scheduled as an ABC Afterschool Special. But network execs realized what an especially special program they had and served it up in prime time last May. On Thursday, it's shown under the Afterschool Special banner, and if you missed it before, see it this time.

LETTERS

Hope for Hope springs eternal in readers

Thanks for the Chicago Hope feature ["Chicago Hopefuls," Dec. 31]. What a powerful show! Geiger is fantastic, Shutt so special, Camille so real, and Dr. Watters pulls it all together. Keep up the good work, folks!

Connie James
Dry Ridge, Ky.

It's about time this "hospital" got attention! I've watched both Chicago Hope and ER, and I don't understand all the hype for the latter. Here's to the St. Elsewhere of the '90s: Chicago Hope.

Michael J. Morelli
East Hartford, Conn.

CBS and David E. Kelley should know by now that good writing and acting do not a hit make. There have to be characters viewers can care about or a star people would watch in almost anything. (Why do you think Picket Fences struggles?) Chicago Hope has neither.

M.L. Smith
San Diego

I have really tried to like Chicago Hope—it's very well done—but it's just not working for me. And I sense a rather snobby, sour-grapes attitude in Mr. Kelley's comments about how ER is for the sort of viewers who "go back and forth and back and forth." I don't. There are good reasons the audience has chosen ER over Hope—such as the fact that it's an excellent show from start to finish. I wish Hope well, but in light of Mr. Kelley's pretentious attitude, I have no desire to watch it again.

Saturday GUIDELINES

☐ The Legendary Journeys of Hercules brings to weekly series TV the sensitive (and kind of campy) Herc for the '90s previously introduced in "Action Pack" TV-movies. Kevin Sorbo continues the role of the demigod. —8 PM 11

☐ Robert Mitchum narrates Eyes of War, an insightful 1989 chronicle of the events that led to World War II, told from the perspective of "the men and women who remember" the tumultuous decades that preceded the conflict. Among them: Henry Kissinger. —8 PM, 11 PM DSC

☐ Movie: Julia Roberts and Denzel Washington track a political conspiracy in the 1993 cloak-and-dagger drama "The Pelican Brief" ★★★. This lengthy adaptation of John Grisham's bestseller includes chase scenes that will keep you on the edge of your seat, and a top-flight supporting cast. See the Close-up on p. 63. —8 PM HBO

☐ Last April, Nickelodeon sneak-previewed All That, a bouncy sketch-comedy series for the junior-high set, and now it joins the cable service's weekly lineup. —8:30 PM NIK

☐ Vanishing Son: Jian Wa Chang (Russell Wong), the musical martial artist who kicked around the U.S. in four recent "Action Pack" movies, gets chased around the country in this new series—he's on the run from the Feds for two murders he didn't commit. Sound familiar? —9 PM 11

☐ The Hollywood Foreign Press Association's version of the Oscars and Emmys—the Golden Globe Awards, telecast live from the Beverly Hilton Hotel. —10 PM TBS

TV GUIDE'S MOVIE RATINGS

For our readers' guidance, TV GUIDE rates movies excellent (★★★★), good (★★★), fair (★★) or poor (★). Our evaluations are based on a number of factors, including a consensus of leading critics, quality of cast and director, awards earned and box-office performance. TV GUIDE does not evaluate movies (signified by an absence of symbols) if a rating might be premature (example: an unscreened TV-movie) or pointless (example: a formula B-Western), or if too few facts are known (example: a minor foreign film). Movies may be edited for television; our ratings are based on the original, complete film.

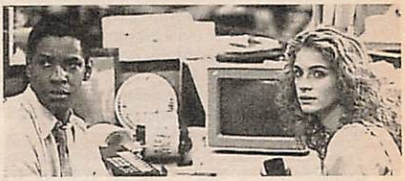
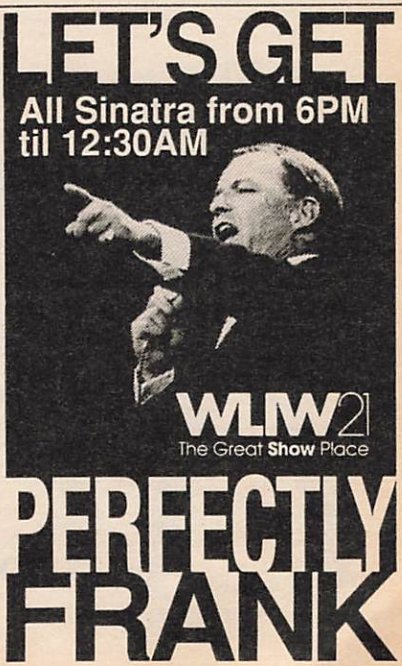
THE PELICAN BRIEF



Warner Bros.

Julia Roberts and Denzel Washington (pictured) star in this adaptation of John Grisham's best-seller. Following the killings of two Supreme Court justices, law student Darby Shaw (Julia Roberts) presents her theory about the murders to her professor-lover Tom Callaghan (Sam Shepard), who then shares it with the FBI. When Callaghan is killed by a car bomb, Darby turns for help to reporter Gray Grantham (Denzel Washington)—who suspects a conspiracy leading straight to the White House. This 1993 suspense drama is rated PG-13 for strong language and violence. Verheek: John Heard. Coal: Tony Goldwyn. (2:25)



11 LEGENDARY JOURNEYS OF HERCULES (CC)—Adventure 1:00 95696
Debut: The "Action Pack" TV-movie muscleman (Kevin Sorbo) takes up weekly residence in the shadow of Mt. Olympus with an Olympian score to settle—his evil stepmother, Hera, has killed his family. Sunday GUIDELINES

☐ No one will confuse University Hospital with the gritty realism of ER and Chicago Hope. Aaron Spelling's new dose of syndicated soap is about four student nurses raising temperatures at a Pacific Northwest medical center. —8 PM 9

☐ "It's a mysterious world full of excitement and fun, at the same time perverse and enchanting," says host Jack Perkins in Circus! 200 Years of Circus in America, which reveals colorful tidbits about life under the big top. In the early days, for example, clowns told jokes to the audience. See the Close-up on p. 90. —8 PM, 12 mid. [Early Mon.] (A&E)

☐ Movie: Tom Berenger is "The Avenging Angel" trying to figure out who's trying to kill Brigham Young (Charlton Heston) in this reverent (but violent) 1995 cable mystery. —8 PM, 10 PM, 12 mid. [Early Mon.] (TNT)

☐ Movie: Twelve years before Knots Landing, Michele Lee sang her way to stardom in 1967's "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying." In 1995's "Big Dreams & Broken Hearts: The Dottie West Story," Lee gets to sing again—in a serious role as the beloved but troubled country star. Kenny Rogers and Larry Gatlin have supporting roles in the drama. See the Close-up on p. 94. —9 PM 2 3

☐ Movie: "A Family Divided." Cameron Bancroft, a striking young actor who won acclaim for his role as a paralyzed marine in 1994's "Moment of Truth: To Walk Again," pulls out more emotional stops in this 1995 TV-drama as a remorseful collegian who took part in a gang rape. —9 PM 4 30

SLEEPLESS IN SEATTLE

Just write in the numbers of the 6 movies you want for 29¢ each, plus shipping and handling. In exchange, you agree to buy just six more movies in the next three years, at our regular Club prices (which currently start as low as $19.95, plus shipping and handling)—and you may cancel membership at any time after doing so. What's more, you can get two more movies for the low price of $6.95 each and have much less to buy later (see complete details in coupon).

Free Video Magazine sent every four weeks (up to 13 times a year), reviewing our Director's Selection—plus scores of alternate movies, including many lower-priced cassettes, down to $14.95. And you may receive Special Selection mailings up to four times a year (a total of up to 17 buying opportunities).

Buy only what you want! If you want the Director's Selection, do nothing—it will be sent automatically. If you'd prefer an alternate selection, or none at all, just mail the response card always provided by the date specified. And you'll always have 14 days to decide, if not, you may return the selection at our expense.

INSTANT BONUS PLAN

As soon as you become a member, you'll immediately be eligible for our generous money-saving bonus plan! It enables you to enjoy more great savings on the movies you want—right from the start of your membership!

10-Day Risk-Free Trial. We'll send details of the Club's operation with your introductory package. If not satisfied, return everything within 10 days for a full refund and no further obligation.

For fastest service, use your credit card and our toll-free number. Call 24 hours a day.

200 YEARS OF THE CIRCUS IN AMERICA

P.T. Barnum

"Beauty against our daily ugliness. Excitement against our boredom" is how John Steinbeck described the American circus, which first pitched its tent in this country in 1793.

Historians and performers trace the origins of the big top (which began in 1763 England as an equestrian show staged to live music) and profile the innovators who improved upon the spectacle and made it accessible to the public. Among their ranks: clown and humorist Dan Rice, who was "the Will Rogers of his day"; and P.T. Barnum, "the person who best epitomized the term 'circus impresario'." Jack Perkins is the host. (2:00)

BIG DREAMS & BROKEN HEARTS: THE DOTTIE WEST STORY

Tony Esparza/CBS

Michele Lee (pictured) spreads country sunshine as the ebullient Nashville songbird Dottie West (1932-91). Her rise to fame is charted in this 1995 TV-movie—which also chronicles her three stormy marriages. On the soundtrack, Lee sings "Welcome to My World"; "Here Comes My Baby" (West's 1964 Grammy winner); and, in a duet with Kenny Rogers, "Every Time Two Fools Collide." The film also includes reminiscences by Larry Gatlin, Kris Kristofferson, Loretta Lynn, Willie Nelson and Dolly Parton. Bill West: William Russ. Byron Metcalf: David James Elliot. Shelly West: Lisa Akey. Al Winters: Ben Browder. Patsy Cline: Tere Myers. Filmed in Nashville. (2:00)

WORK AT HOME

PLENTY OF HIGH-PAY OFFICE JOBS TOO!

Earn up to $25,000 a year!

Be a Medical Transcriptionist

No previous experience needed...learn at home in spare time. Type medical histories from audio cassettes dictated by doctors

Until now, very few people knew about this exciting, money-making job opportunity. And the field is still wide open. So if you want to work in an office or make a good living at home—without commuting, without selling...and working the hours you choose—get free facts about what could be the greatest job opportunity of your life!

WORK FOR DOCTORS, HOSPITALS & CLINICS

Compare these advantages with any other profession!

- You can work as much as you want
- You can earn $10 to $15 an hour
- Choose your hours...any time of day
- No time wasted traveling to work
- Be your own boss
- Nationwide job placement assistance
- Work wherever you want to live
- Prestige of working in the medical profession

Experts train you step by step...you can be ready to work in just four months!

The medical profession is in need of skilled transcriptionists. So if you can type or are willing to learn, you can make almost as much money as you want because doctors have more work for medical transcriptionists than they can handle. You learn medical terminology, how to prepare medical reports, how to establish a reference system as well as how to transcribe from audio cassettes dictated by doctors. Experts show you how to type your work to meet the exacting standards of the medical profession.

Compare the money you can make at home as a Medical Transcriptionist with any other job. Plenty of high-pay office jobs, too!

What other job can you start with just four months of training at home and start earning up to $25,000 a year? Plus you get these extra benefits if you prefer to work at home—no transportation cost or time wasted going to and from your job, no expensive clothes because you can do all your work at home, no child day care costs, work whatever hours you choose...early mornings, late at night, anytime, and take "breaks" whenever you want them. And it's not only the money you make that's important—you'll be working in a prestigious job making a valuable contribution to the medical profession.

He emerged from a pack of extremely talented competitors — as 1993 Winston Cup Rookie of the Year. His name is Jeff Gordon, and at 23 years of age, he is clearly headed for greatness. In May, 1994, Gordon proved this again, with his first-place triumph at the Coca-Cola 600 — his first Winston Cup victory. And then, on August 6, 1994, he made stock car racing history by winning the inaugural Brickyard 400.

Now, The Hamilton Collection, in association with Sports Impressions - a leading creator of sports memorabilia - presents an impressive collector plate premiere: "Jeff Gordon." This rising superstar receives a well-deserved salute with this introduction of Robert Tanenbaum's art, captured on fine porcelain, and rimmed with a specially designed border of gleaming 23K gold.

Now, you can relive all the drama and glory of the racetrack by acquiring Tanenbaum's dynamic "Jeff Gordon." You'll also have the opportunity — with no obligation whatsoever — to preview upcoming issues in the Drivers of Victory Lane Plate Collection, saluting the giants of contemporary stock car racing. Each issue will be hand-numbered and accompanied by a matching-numbered Certificate of Authenticity.

Bergman and Bogart in "Casablanca"

STYLE AND STARDOM IN HOLLYWOOD

Debut: John Lithgow hosts an ambitious 10-part series on the history of film in America. The first hour examines how some directors developed their movies by emphasizing strong narrative rather than relying on flashy technique, while others such as Howard Hawks and Orson Welles infused their work with their own distinctive style. Clips are shown from three films that drew their power from their plot: "Casablanca," "A Place in the Sun" and "Scarface." The second hour traces the phenomenon of stardom and the rise of the studios. Included are comments from industry experts and a generous sampling of clips. Narrators: Joe Morton, Kathleen Turner. ST. JUDE SAINT OF THE IMPOSSIBLE

SOLEMN NOVENA OF MASSES AND PRAYERS
FEB. 11-19

St. Jude, the cousin of our Savior, is the patron in hopeless cases, and in things almost despaired of.

For your very special needs and anxieties, a Solemn Novena of Masses and Prayers in honor of St. Jude the Apostle will begin Feb. 11 ans conclude on Feb. 19. Please join us in petition to St. Jude for your own pressing intentions and for those of anyone close to you.

So many have had their desperate pleas answered by devotion to St. Jude. I am sure God will grant whatever you ask of him as patron.

Please send today for your Novena prayer booklet and free medal of St. Jude to remind you to pray with us in this Solemn Novena.

St. Jude Devotion, Franciscan Friars
276 West Lincoln Avenue
P.O. Box 598 SJ-115
Mount Vernon, New York 10551

Dear Fathers:
Please include my petitions in your Solemn Novena to St. Jude, and send me, FREE, your prayer folder and blessed medal so that I may join you in prayer.

THE MUSIC OF KURT WEILL: SEPTEMBER SONGS

WNET

Lou Reed

The German-born composer (1900-50) is recalled in an imaginative music special that spans his career—from Berlin in the 1920s to Broadway in the '40s. Making magical use of a deserted warehouse, director Larry Weinstein and designer Michael Levine create innovative settings for Weill's songs, among them . . . "Surabaya Johnny" and "Youkali Tango" (performed by Teresa Stratas), "Mack the Knife" (Nick Cave), "Cannon Song" (Stan Ridgway), "Lost in the Stars" (Elvis Costello), "Lonely House" (Betty Carter), "September Song" (Lou Reed), "Aggie's Sewing Machine" (Kathy Dalton) and "Alabama Song" (David Johansen, Ellen Shipley, Ralph Shuckett, Bob Dorough). Tuesday GUIDELINES

☐ Monica Calhoun, Lark Voorhies and Malinda Williams provide the spunky spark for "What About Your Friends," a well-acted Schoolbreak Special about three high-school seniors hoping to get into the same college. —4 PM 2

☐ The first visitors to the New World are the subject of an intriguing Nova that traces the exploits of "Vikings in America." Many questions surround these Nordic travelers, who reached the continent 500 years before Columbus. —8 PM 13 49

☐ "His voice would just mesmerize people," recalls Barbara Mandrell in this fond look at The Life and Times of Marty Robbins. The legendary "cowboy singer," who was inducted into the Country Music Hall of Fame just two months before he suffered a fatal heart attack in 1982, is also remembered by his widow, Marizona, his children, and his friends and associates. —8 PM TNN

☐ President Clinton attempts to reclaim the spotlight from Speaker of the House Newt Gingrich (R-Ga.) tonight, when he is scheduled to deliver his State of the Union Address before a joint session of Congress. At press time, it was expected that the President would stress the need for passage of a "middle class bill of rights." See the Close-up on p. 138. —9 PM 2 3 4 5 7 8 13 30 61 CNN CSP; 2 AM [Early Wed.] CNN

☐ Movie: Jack Scalia is suitably psychotic as a "Tall, Dark and Deadly" stranger who uses his spare time to meet, mate and murder women. This 1995 made-for-cable thriller is heavy on the tension, but neglects continuity. Kim Delaney costars. —9 PM USA

Say Never" [Dec. 31]. It was terrific to read that some folks in Hollywood are not the whiners that they've been portrayed as. Some actually do what "regular" people would do after a fight with a friend—they say "I'm sorry" to one another and move forward. Women of the House is the first major network show I've been excited about in a long time.

No gray on Jarvis's 'Blue' view

Kudos to Jeff Jarvis for his candid assessment of NYPD Blue since the talented actor David Caruso left the series [Couch Critic, Dec. 24]. Mr. Jarvis has not gone the route chosen by so many other critics to become a mouthpiece for Steven Bochco.

Christine T. Schultz
Bolingbrook, Ill.

Hey, Jarvis—did Jimmy Smits kill your dog in a past life or something? Your Blue review was not only unfair in the extreme, but it completely devalued the performance of an actor stepping into a very delicate position, and doing a damn good job of it. The show is still great.

The Republican Kennedy

Unlike you, quite a few of us think MTV's Kennedy is very entertaining [Cheers 'n' Jeers, Dec. 31], especially her motormouth raps. In a bleak landscape of television conformity and mediocrity, this sort of maverick should be encouraged. Someone at TV GUIDE should acquire a sense of humor, fast.

President Clinton is scheduled to address a joint session of Congress (dominated by Republicans for the first time in more than 40 years) to outline his agenda in what could be his most important speech since he entered office.

Delivered in the chamber of the U.S. House of Representatives, the President's address is expected to touch on the need for bipartisan efforts on domestic issues, including the passage of the "middle-class bill of rights," as well as reforms of welfare, health care and the rules governing political lobbies.

A Republican response and press analysis are slated to follow the speech. (Live)

Wednesday GUIDELINES

☐ Julie Hagerty, last seen as the naive Tracy on the short-lived Princesses, takes over Valerie Mahaffey's role as the equally naive Jennifer in tonight's Women of the House. —8 PM (2) (3)

☐ Richard Kiley narrates an enjoyable two-hour clipfest celebrating 30 Years of National Geographic Specials. See the Close-up on p. 160. —8 PM (4) (30)

☐ Full House joins the cavalcade of ABC shows promoting the upcoming Super Bowl with a story in which Danny and Rebecca report from the site of the big game. —8 PM (7) (8)

☐ Live from Lincoln Center: Yo-Yo Ma guests with conductor Kurt Masur and the New York Philharmonic in a concert scheduled to include Antonin Dvorak's Cello Concerto in B Minor, considered one of the great concertos of its era (1890s). —8 PM (13); 9 PM (49)

☐ From 1994: TV's All Time Classic Comedy culls memorable moments from vintage series showcasing such stars as Mary Tyler Moore, Carroll O'Connor, Carol Burnett, Penny Marshall, Billy Crystal, Jackie Gleason and Jack Benny. —9 PM (5) (61)

☐ Tony winner John Cullum plays a cabaret singer in Manhattan—the locale of an especially offbeat Northern Exposure repeat from September. —10 PM (2) (3)

☐ Movie: Larry Fishburne ("What's Love Got to Do with It") delivers an excellent performance in the ★★ 1992 drug-bust drama "Deep Cover." —10 PM (SHO)

Start with 7 FREE CDs or cassettes now

Buy only 1 at the regular Club price within a year

Then get 2 more hits of your choice, FREE

Enjoy 10 CDs or cassettes for the price of 1

A shipping and handling charge is added to each selection.

Nothing more to buy, ever!

HERE'S HOW YOUR CLUB WORKS:

Start with our 7-1-2 Formula to introduce you to the Club...and to your savings!

CHOOSE THE MUSIC YOU LOVE.

- Pick 7 FREE CDs or cassettes right now from the many great choices in this ad.
- Buy just 1 selection at the regular Club price (currently $14.98 to $15.98 for CDs; $8.98 to $9.98 for cassettes) within a year.
- Then choose 2 more FREE! That's a total of 10 for the price of 1 (plus shipping and handling for each selection) with nothing more to buy, ever!

LISTEN WITH NO RISK. You may take 10 days to listen to your introductory selections and look over the accompanying terms of Club membership.

- If you're not completely satisfied, simply return your selections at our expense–with no further obligation.

SHOP FROM THE COMFORT OF HOME.

Discover how convenient it is to shop with BMG Music Service.

- You'll get our exclusive Club Catalog about every three weeks (19 shopping opportunities a year), filled with hundreds of choices in a variety of music categories, plus music news, artist interviews and recommendations from our experts.
- So easy! Every issue offers a Featured Selection in your preferred music category. If you want the Featured Selection, don't do a thing–you'll receive it automatically.
- Your choice! If you want other hits from the Catalog–or none at all–just return the Notification Card provided by the specified date. You'll have at least 10 days to decide.
- No pressure! If you should have fewer than 10 days to reply and receive an unwanted Featured Selection, simply return it at our expense.

SAVE AGAIN AND AGAIN.

From day one, for every selection you buy at the regular Club price, you may choose another of equal or lesser value at 50% off. But that's not all.

- The longer you remain a BMG Music Service member, the more you save–up to 50%, 60%, even 70%–with our special sales and discounts.

We're sure you'll enjoy your exclusive Club benefits. But if you ever want to cancel, just write and tell us. It's your choice anytime–after you buy your one regular-Club-price selection. Why wait? Join BMG Music Service now and start saving.

If the reply card is missing, please write to:

30 YEARS OF NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC (CC)
8 PM (4) (30)

Richard Kiley narrates a retrospective marking the 30th anniversary of the series that has "captured the sights and sounds of Earth's many wonders."

The program offers highlights of the myriad animals, diverse cultures and scenic landscapes presented over three decades, including life in the sands of Africa's Namib Desert, lions and hyenas in northern Botswana, alligators in the Okefenokee Swamp, tigers in India and marine life in the Caribbean. Also: footage of the Baka, Gagudju and Maya peoples, Mount Everest, subterranean caves and Hawaii's ecosystem; and a look at the work of Louis and Mary Leakey, Jane Goodall, Jacques Cousteau and others. Thursday GUIDELINES

☐ "Every 30 seconds one American teenager becomes pregnant" announces an ABC Afterschool Special that deals with the complex issues arising from teen sexuality. A dramatization focuses on the painful options facing a pregnant 16-year-old and is complemented by observations of experts, including parents, educators. —4 PM 7

☐ Mike Wallace, Ed Bradley and Dan Rather host CBS Reports, a three-hour look at the effects of violence "In the Killing Fields of America." See the Close-up on p. 180. —8 PM 2 (3)

☐ The last scheduled episode of My So-Called Life airs tonight. The short-lived Life has been consistently one of the best (if lowest rated) dramas on TV, and, according to ABC Entertainment President Ted Harbert, it may still be resurrected by the network—hopefully in a less deadly time slot. The show's bright young star, Claire Danes, will no doubt be seen again. —8 PM 7 (8)

☐ Seinfeld: Guest Jon Lovitz makes a mistake by confiding in George. —9 PM 4 (30)

☐ ABC, which is televising Super Bowl XXIX on Sunday, rounds up a lineup of celebrities that includes Alan Jackson, Diana Ross and Tony Bennett to celebrate The NFL's 75th Anniversary. The gala was taped in New York on Jan. 18. —9 PM 7 (8)

☐ In a compelling ER repeat, L.A. Law alum and current Cybill star Alan Rosenberg gives a powerful performance as a likable family man who won't live through the night without a heart transplant. —10 PM 4 (30)

Tonight, CBS devotes an entire night of television to violence in America.

Violence is everywhere. But there is hope. In an unprecedented three-hour broadcast, CBS News correspondents Dan Rather, Mike Wallace, and Ed Bradley visit the front lines. They find plenty of villains. But they also find heroes, and even some answers.

IN THE KILLING FIELDS OF AMERICA Ed Bradley

Mike Wallace, Ed Bradley and Dan Rather are the hosts for a survey of what Wallace terms "the war we are waging against ourselves"—violence in America.

The Wallace segments examine events in a Louisiana prison; Brooklyn's Red Hook district; and Washington, D.C., where he visits the family of a slain security guard. Bradley journeys to Atlanta, California and Denver, where a woman discusses domestic violence and the murder of her daughter. And Rather talks to youths in Minneapolis, and considers the incidence of child abuse in Phoenix and the aftermath of a gang member's slaying in Hartford, Conn. (3:00)

Friday GUIDELINES

☐ According to executive producer Ken Ehrlich, Best of Country aims to "show the energy of the new country music as well as its traditions." Which explains why this two-hour special features a salute to Nashville great George Jones in addition to a countrified R&B segment pairing Clint Black with the Pointer Sisters. Other pairings include Travis Tritt with bluesman Sam Moore, and Marty Stuart with the Staple Singers. —8 PM (2) (3)

☐ A timely Biography of O.J. Simpson plays like a typical success story—almost—about a ghetto kid who became a star on and off the football field. It doesn't get into the murder case (of Nicole Brown Simpson and Ronald Goldman) until near the end and it doesn't foreshadow it. —8 PM, 12 mid. [Early Sat.] (A&E)

☐ Movie: The appeal of the ★★★ 1993 comedy-drama "Wrestling Ernest Hemingway" is watching old pros Richard Harris and Robert Duvall at the top of their craft. Harris revels in playing a salty former sea captain, and Duvall is excellent as an introverted, retired barber. —8 PM (MAX)

☐ NBA Basketball: The Charlotte Hornets host the New York Knicks. See the Close-up on p. 199. —8 PM (MSG) (TNT)

☐ The first Grand Slam event of the tennis season, the Australian Open, reaches the women's final. —9 PM (ESN)

☐ In an intense episode of Homicide: Life on the Street, three of Baltimore's finest fight for their lives after being shot while trying to arrest a pedophile wanted for murdering a young boy. —10 PM (4) (30)

NEW YORK AT CHARLOTTE

The Knicks visit the Hornets. (Live)

When the teams played at Madison Square Garden in November, the Hornets swarmed the Knicks, holding them to under 37 percent shooting in a 105-95 win that gave then-struggling Charlotte renewed confidence. Hornets center Alonzo Mourning won his individual battle with Patrick Ewing as well, with 27 points, 18 rebounds and three blocks to the New York pivotman's 22 points, 14 boards and 2 rejections.

Keys to the rematch include the playing status of injured Knicks Charles Oakley and Herb Williams, and wounded Hornets reserves Michael Adams and Kenny Gattison.

TV GUIDE'S MOVIE RATINGS

For our readers' guidance, TV GUIDE rates movies excellent (★★★★), good (★★★), fair (★★) or poor (★). Our evaluations are based on a number of factors, including a consensus of leading critics, quality of cast and director, awards earned and box-office performance. TV GUIDE does not evaluate movies (signified by an absence of symbols) if it might be premature (example: an unscreened TV-movie) or pointless (example: a formula B-Western), or if the criteria can't be applied because too few facts are known (example: a minor foreign film). Movies may be edited for television; our ratings are based on the original, complete film.

PARENTAL GUIDANCE

The official MPAA content rating (G, PG, PG-13, R or NC-17) is provided for every film that has received one (NR: not rated). We also offer advisories about content (adult themes, sexual situations, strong language, violence, nudity or partial nudity), but parents should be aware that films containing adult themes or sexual situations frequently involve nudity, even though our advisory may not explicitly say so.

Horoscope

By Patric Walker

ARIES (March 21-April 20): There's no point in telling you to hold your temper when Mars at odds with Pluto has you preparing for a fight. There is always someone bigger or stronger than you, so don't start something unless you have a chance of winning. Better yet, get someone to champion your cause.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21): Attention to detail is the key to your success this week, Taurus. In fact, if you allow your mind to wander for even a moment, you could miss out on something very important. A decisive aspect between Mars and Pluto signifies that you can learn as much from a colleague's mistakes as you can from your own, but without the agony.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21): Thankfully, family and financial matters won't bother you much this week. In fact, you've probably been worrying yourself sick for no good reason. Creatively, you must make the most of whatever opportunities come your way. All it takes is the confidence to attempt what's right for you.

CANCER (June 22-July 23): Anything of a joint financial nature is well-starred during the early part of the week, but once Mercury turns retrograde on the 26th, you would be wise not to force through any unpopular changes. As far as social and travel plans are concerned, the worst decision is indecision, so take the plunge.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23): Try not to take it personally if others cast doubts upon your capabilities—just redouble your efforts and show them that no one is as determined as you are. Mars, the planet of action, returns to your birth sign this week, so you should have no trouble putting competitors in their place.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23): The Sun in Aquarius at this time of year is not an easy influence for you to deal with, but it is exactly what you need to get things done and to organize your time more efficiently. Therefore, plan ahead more and make a determined effort to clear up the backlog of work that you started and never got around to finishing.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23): Mercury, the planet of communication and the mind, turns to reverse motion this week, which means your best strategy by far is to keep your head down and do everything by the book. Fortunately, an older, more experienced colleague will gladly pass along some valuable advice—but only if you ask.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22): A decisive aspect between Pluto, your ruler, and the assertive planet Mars signifies that it's time to stop talking about taking the world by storm and just do it. Those in positions of authority will be impressed by your dynamic approach, so make sure you put your own interests first.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21): Travel plans should have real purpose this week if you are to enjoy what you'll find at the end of your journey. Although the Sun in Aquarius makes you eager to be on the move, resources are limited, so compromise. Someone from a different background is about to restore your faith in diversity.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 20): No matter how hard you try, you won't be able to fulfill all your obligations this week. Pluto and Jupiter in Sagittarius signify that you've got too much emotional baggage, and that something will have to go. Therefore make a list of your commitments and cut it down to essentials.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19): All you really have to do now that the Sun is transiting your own birth sign is to sit back and let the tide of fortune take you where it will. However, because Mercury also turns retrograde this week, a certain amount of caution is required. Mars in Leo signifies that a half-forgotten commitment will come back to haunt you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20): An important chapter in your life is coming to an end, but instead of dwelling on the mistakes that have been made, focus on the good things to come. It would be easy to lose heart this week. Therefore, it is absolutely vital that you maintain a positive mental attitude.
